

Treat cause first

Hi ROBIN,

Your hairfall is linked to a recent illness or health condition. The body, under significant stress, can push up to 70% of actively growing hair into the resting phase all at once.

CLINICAL GATE

Never prescribe topical hairloss products before physician clearance in this cohort. Hairloss is a symptom here — treat the underlying cause first.

Your treatment routine

Your follicles are intact, and the shedding is happening because of stress that your body was under some time ago. You can take an active role by using the following treatment plan according to the s4 treatment protocol.
